

CONGRESS MEMBERS GATHERING FOR NEW SESSION TOMORROW

National Economy and Constitutionalism Are Two Major Issues

MUCH CRITICISM

Night Session of Congress Provokes Charge That It Is Campaign Stunt

By William K. Hutchinson
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Fresh from a four-month vacation, members of the Seventy-fourth Congress gathered here today to reconvene at noon tomorrow in a session certain to develop definite issues for the 1936 presidential election.

Two major issues—national economy and constitutionalism—were raised by returning legislators even before Congress assembled. On every side, there appeared determination to reduce the terrific expenditures, which won for the Seventy-fourth the dubious title of "spendthrift Congress" at its first session last year.

The Seventy-fourth also approached its duties with trepidation over what the Supreme Court may do to the Roosevelt recovery program previously enacted. A half dozen laws, "key-stones" in the Roosevelt program, were under attack before that august Tribunal as violative of the Constitution. Before this session is many weeks old, Supreme Court rulings may throw out a mass of laws as unconstitutional and give Congress additional legislative problems.

Partisan feeling developed on the eve of the session over the President's decision to turn his annual message on "the state of the union" into a radio "fireside chat" with the people of the nation. His plan to address a joint session of House and Senate tomorrow night in order to get a wider radio reception, provoked sharp criticism from Republicans at both ends of the Capitol. He was openly charged with using Congress as a medium to initiate his campaign for re-election to the presidency.

Developments at the coming session will be watched too for their effect upon the presidential aspirations of several Republicans. For instance, Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, already has given his consent for use of his name in the Republican presidential primaries in Wisconsin, New York and Ohio. His every move will be watched for its effect upon the campaign to make him the Republican nominee next year. In lesser degree, the same thing will apply to Senator Lester J. Dickinson of Iowa, and Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, regarded as "dark horse" Republican possibilities.

Sometime during the session, observers expect campaigns to develop for the Republican vice-presidential nomination. A number of Republicans in both House and Senate are regarded as likely timber. They will be in the "spotlight" for judgment of their abilities.

Across the aisles, a group of conservative Democrats, outspoken critics of the Roosevelt program last year, will be under observation for light on whether they will support or bolt Mr. Roosevelt.

THE CROSSROADS

(New York American, January 1, 1936)

We who have at heart the preservation of the United States of America as it was conceived by the Fathers and developed by the individualism of their posterity cannot look forward to 1936 without looking back with profound misgivings to 1935.

The past year—the one hundred and fifty-ninth in the existence of the Republic and the one hundred and forty-eighth since the adoption of the Constitution—has seen the institutions of our country torn from their fast constitutional and traditional moorings.

It has seen the country, in the hands of a crew of visionaries, experimenters and crack-pots, put out for a land called NOWHERE-IN-PARTICULAR, with the compass wobbling between Moscow, Berlin and Rome.

NINETEEN-THIRTY-FIVE saw the Congress of the United States ABDICATE ITS CONSTITUTIONAL PREROGATIVES and delegate its powers to a dictatorial Executive.

We saw, with startled eyes, and heard, with almost unbelieving ears, the President of the United States advise Congress to pass a law WHETHER IT BELIEVED IT TO BE CONSTITUTIONAL OR NOT.

We saw Congress rip out of the national checkbook a check for $4,880,000,000 and hand it over to the President to be used as he saw fit (and NO QUESTIONS ASKED).

We heard the Constitution of the United States, after a solemn decision of the Supreme Court which sustained a great fundamental principle of State rights, referred to by the President of the United States as a HORSE-AND-BUGGY DOCUMENT.

We have seen restrictive and regimentary laws passed

YES, WE HAVE NO POTATO TODAY

What I want
Said a customer
In a cafe on a snappy
Appetite-making fall
Day in 1936
Is an order of pork chops
And country fried potatoes
And the girl who was
Waiting tables said
I'm sorry, sir,
But we served our weekly
Potato quota yesterday
Using the three that
Mr. Wallace let us have
For this week
So we're clean out
And both the pork chops that
We'd had locked in a
Safety deposit box
Were eaten yesterday
By a big spender from
Washington who was here
Checking up on this
WPA work and who Could afford to Pay ninety-four cents
Apiece for them and
Tip me, too.

For awhile, she said,
We had a pretty good
potato bootlegger, a farmer
Who kept us supplied
But fourteen government
G-Men rounded him up
Last week and a judge
Gave him thirty-seven years
In jail
And the boss of this place
Was fined seven hundred
And sixty-seven dollars
For buying spuds
That didn't have stamps
With Henry Wallace's face
All over 'em
And they darned near scared
Me to death too
Threatening to lock me up
For serving spuds that Weren't official

We've got, said the girl,
Some pretty good canned
Corn beef shipped in from
Argentina which don't go bad
With corn bread made from
South African corn
Or we can give you
An order of wheat cakes
Made from hard Russian
Wheat which smeared with
Hungarian corn syrup
Seems to suit
Some of our trade okay
Then we've got some fried
Polish rutabaga which
Some folks say has a sort
Of potato taste
And I can give you an order of
Canadian lamb chops
With French mushroom sauce
But no potatoes
Nor pork chops

I guess, said the customer,
That if I want to eat
What I want to eat
When I want to eat
I'll have to move to
Argentina, Africa, Poland or
Some place where they still
Grow meat and vegetables
And pigs and potatoes and
Where I can get 'em
Without having to pay
Ocean carrying charges
And it's my idea, he said
That this is getting to be
One heluva country
And the girl said
Yes-sir.

DOYLESTOWN'S MUNICIPAL BUILDING PROPOSAL WAS DEFEATED DURING MAY; OTHER NEWS OF MONTH SHOWED LOCAL BOY BROKE NAT'L ROPE CLIMB RECORD

Bristol Youth Week Was Conducted — Double Tragedy Occurred in Quakertown, a Murder and a Suicide Taking Place There — Columns Perused

Proposal to erect a municipal building in Doylestown was defeated; Youth Week occurred here; Roman Pieo, a sophomore at Bristol high school, broke the national record in New York City; a double tragedy in the form of a murder and suicide occurred in Quakertown, during May of the year just ended.

The main news of the columns of the Courier editions for that month are here presented in brief form:

1st—Mrs. Margaret F. Spencer, New Hope architect and interior decorator, was suing for $591.50, in an action in trespass, the defendant being Henry Chapin, Solebury. Mrs. Spencer sought the sum for damages she claimed were caused to her residence after she had leased it to Chapin, the latter declaring a sub-tenant had caused the damage.

Langhorne high school seniors, totalling 43, left for a four-day trip to Washington, D. C.

Matthew Domovitch, Croydon, emerged from the Youth Week marble tournament, as the champion boy shooter in this section.

2nd—Morrisville school board announced that with two exceptions, teachers at the Morrisville public school for the term of 1935-36 would be the same.

Running into the path of an automobile on the highway here, Paul Cauci, 7, of Lincoln avenue, suffered a broken leg.

The proposal to erect a municipal building on the lot adjacent to Doylestown Fire Co. station, which was to have contained a borough lock-up and offices, was turned down unanimously at a meeting of the county seat fire company. The firemen stated that when they needed a new apparatus the funds would not be available, if spent for a municipal building.

3rd—Bucks County Public Health Association and Bucks County public health nurses met in the Travel Club home for the Spring meeting. Many local people attended, and listened to addresses by physicians and nurses. Miss Laura Haines, Doylestown, was renominated as president.

Anna Ventriglia, 12, second ward, won the girls' marble championship for Youth Week.

Mothers were honored by members of American Legion Auxiliary, at their monthly meeting. A special program featured the "Mothers' Night."

4th—Youth Week track and field meet occurred at Bristol high school field. Seven meet records were broken, four by the girls and three by the boys. Edgely girls and fourth ward boys captured the honors. Competition was keen, but a slight drizzle of rain kept the crowd small.

The Delaware River Coach Company, operating buses between Trenton and Morrisville, had reduced its fare to five cents straight.

Bristol high school's champion rope climber, Roman Pieo, 18, a Sophomore, broke the national record in New York City, and received a gold medal. His time for the 25 foot climb was 6.4 seconds, bettering the world's record by .8 seconds.

A search was being made by officers for William Kline, colored, Wood street, and a companion named Chapman, wanted for questioning in connection with the shooting of Thomas Still, colored, Buckingham. Still was not seriously hurt, and he credited Kline with the injury.

Miss Margaret R. Grundy was elected a member of the board of directors of the Bucks County Historical Society, when a session occurred at Doylestown, succeeding Mathias H. Hall, deceased.

5th—Three local horses captured major prizes at the Spring show of the Bristol Riding Club. "White Boots," E. J. Laing's entry; "Coin-treau," owned by Mrs. George Hussey, and Harry B. Hanford's "Over There" showed up excellently.

Charles H. Dickinson, 34, Upper Southampton Township, died of gunshot wounds, said to have been inflicted by his wife, Mildred, 21, following a quarrel. Murder charges were lodged against the woman.

6th—Bristol police were working on a case here in which Mrs. Louise Mazella, Trenton avenue, long pursued by ill-fate, was said to have been fleeing.

FIRE DAMAGES REAR OF TWO BURLINGTON HOUSES

Firemen Fight Blaze For Two Hours On First Day of Year

ESTIMATE $4,000 LOSS

BURLINGTON, N. J., Jan. 2.—Fire yesterday morning damaged the rear of two houses on East State street here to the extent of $3,000 to $4,000, and for a time threatened to demolish an entire row.

Firemen fought for two hours to confine the blaze to the homes of Miss Alma Scholey, 224 East State street, in whose home the fire broke out, and George Cox, 226 East State street.

Noticing smoke issuing from the rear of the Scholey home, Mrs. Joseph Logan, a neighbor, sounded an alarm, while other neighbors aroused Miss Scholey and members of the Cox family.

Before it could be brought under control, the fire had burned out the rear of both houses from cellar to roof. The blaze was fought under the direction of Fire Chief Raymond Oliver, whose term expired at noon yesterday.

The blaze was reported to have started from an overheated stove in the kitchen of the Scholey residence. Damage is said to be covered by insurance.

GRAY SQUIRREL ENTERS HOUSE HERE FOR FOOD

Becomes Very Friendly With Residents in Jefferson Avenue Section

COLD HINDERS VISITS

The gray squirrel which has become the pet of Miss C. Kelly, 131 Jefferson avenue, and Dr. Joseph deB. Abbott, Radcliffe street, and others in that vicinity, is believed to have gotten "cold feet" during the past week.

At any rate the daily visits to the Kelly and Abbott residences have ceased since the extremely low temperatures set in, and passersby who always carried nuts for the friendly little fellow and his two pals have not seen the trio for several days.

The belief is that the well-fed three have sufficient store of nuts, and can afford to be free from anxiety about food when the mercury drops and when the snow falls fast.

The friendliest one of the three, a handsome fellow, for the past three months has made almost daily visits to the Kelly home. Nuts were placed on the porch by Miss Kelly, and when this supply was exhausted, the squirrel would go inside, should the door be purposely left open. He would scamper about inside, searching for more nuts, and usually would find them in the kitchen. Occasionally he would halt in his ceaseless carrying to the out-of-doors, to bury one in a flower pot for future use. Occasionally the one feeding him would notice that after rolling a nut around in his mouth the furry visitor would drop it on the floor, and no amount of persuasion could make him take it away. Further investigation always proved the nut to be dried up or faulty in some other manner. The time of the daily visits was from 7.30 o'clock on.

Should the donor have a nut in her hand the squirrel would become quite friendly, leap to her shoulder, and start his search until the hiding place of the nut was discovered. According to the residents of the section the home of the squirrel family is in the grounds of the Convent of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Radcliffe street. But hiding places for the nuts are all over that section of the fifth ward. At any rate a few are eaten on the premises when the donation is large, and the rest carried away, countless trips being made.

On one visit at the Abbott home, a fine snap-shot was secured of His Highness, Mr. Squirrel. He was perched on the shoulder of a little girl, but his curiosity got the better of him, and he leaped to the camera for closer inspection. Dr. Abbott usually carries nuts in his pockets while about the premises, and the squirrel family has learned of this to their advantage.

"There's is only one other thing, I've been successful in having the squirrel accept," states Miss Kelly. "He did eat an apple core one day, but other foods he refuses."

The squirrel's friends are eagerly looking for the time of higher temperatures, when visits will be resumed.

New Defense for Hauptmann

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 2.—Frederick A. Pope, one of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's defense attorneys, today confirmed reports that Hauptmann's defenders were seeking to pin the Lindbergh baby kidnapping on Isadore Fisch, dead German furrier, and an unidentified associate.

Asked to confirm reports the defense would produce the name and picture of Fisch's associate when Hauptmann's plea for commutation of the death sentence comes before the New Jersey Court of Pardons, probably early next week, Pope said:

"I wouldn't go so far as to say that. But we are investigating a lead."

Meanwhile, it was disclosed by prosecution officials that Attorney General David T. Wilentz will oppose every move made by the defense attorneys concerning the new "alibi story." The officials said they were certain they could establish "that Hauptmann is again trying to blame it on someone we do not know anything about."

It was understood here that a reported defense request that physical and mental tests be given to several of the state's witnesses will be turned down by the Court of Pardons.

ONLY TWO ARRESTS MADE IN AREA ON NEW YEAR'S

One for Drunken Driving; the Other for Displaying 1935 License Tags

NOISE GREET'S 1936

In spite of the fact that the arrival of the year 1936 was celebrated in a variety of ways here, police of the area report that no accidents of any note occurred; but one operator of a motor vehicle was taken into custody for driving an automobile on which were displayed 1935 license plates; and only one arrest occurred for drunken driving. The former arrest was made by state highway patrolmen from South Langhorne barracks, on the Lincoln highway yesterday morning; and the latter in Bristol borough.

Highways were in fair condition for the holidays, despite the layer of snow; and it is presumed motorists drove in a particularly careful manner, in spite of the holiday activities, and the celebrations that included spirituous liquors.

Parties galore were held at restaurants, clubs and private homes, hundreds of guests celebrating the arrival of the new year with dancing, noise-making, and indulging in food and drink.

As far as can be learned no babies made their arrival here on the first day of the year. No births were recorded at either hospital, and numerous physicians communicated with had no birth reports to make for the first day of this year 1936.

Church bells and whistles in industrial plants bore the glad tidings of the new arrival on the stroke of midnight Tuesday, and the din was added to by individuals who made use of automobile horns, whistles, etc.

OUR COUNCIL

That the affairs of Bristol Borough are administered honestly and wisely is proven by the fact that during the years of the depression each fiscal year has ended with a balance on hand. It has not been necessary for borough council to levy any additional taxes, as the borough legislative body has adhered strictly to a balanced budget and a pay-as-you-go policy.

The borough finances were concluded for the year 1935 and, according to the statement of William J. Lefferts, treasurer, there is a balance of $667.36 on hand.

Bristol councilmen have the welfare and interest of the town at heart. They are men whose reputations have been established in the community and they willingly go month after month to the council chamber to transact the borough's business, in addition to attending numerous other meetings in the interval, which are necessary, to keep the municipality functioning.

Just why do men, whose time is valuable, give so unstintingly of their time and efforts, for the public weal? There is no recompense, other than that derived from the satisfaction of having discharged a responsibility and a civic duty of every loyal and patriotic citizen.

Citizens, as a whole, take little or no interest, except around election time, in who administers their municipal affairs. But those elected to the council, here, go on, month after month, and safeguard the funds entrusted to them and administer the public's business as they would their own.

Bristol's balance of $667.36 at the end of 1935 is not unusual. There was a balance last year, the year before, and the year previous to that, and in other years as well.

As we start upon another 12 months these councilmen will go on serving with the same fidelity and fealty as heretofore. They are conscious of their responsibilities and eager to do justice to all.

Bristolians have much to appreciate. Their municipality renders the usual services at a moderate tax rate, and there is never any money squandered. A debt of gratitude is owed by every resident of Bristol to those who serve in public office in the borough, for the manner in which their interests are managed.

Every item of expenditure is set forth in a statement, which is soon to be published for the enlightenment of Bristol taxpayers. This is another thing in which Bristol council achieves distinction. The issuance of a year book, in which each department gives an annual accounting is another. The taxpayers of many communities never see a financial statement and never know how their dollars of tax money are expended. This is not true, however, with the Bristol Council.

by Congress which were more drastic than any of the laws which caused the American Revolution.

We have seen a bill forced through Congress by the President which, under the guise of being a revenue measure, was nothing but a bill to CONFISCATE the wealth of the well-to-do and attain inheritances, no matter how honestly accumulated.

We have seen, in the momentous closing year, the Congress of the United States appropriate the enormous sum of $10,000,000,000, mainly to carry on experiments that are Socialistic, Fascistic and Communistic, and for the further purpose of Farleyizing an electorate in the interests of stabilizing for four years more the FIRST BUREAUCRATIC TYRANNY THAT HAS EVER RAISED ITS HATEFUL HEAD ON OUR SOIL.

We have seen the democratic Government of the United States plunge into Agrarian Socialism by distributing millions of dollars as bonuses for crops NOT raised and for the DESTRUCTION of valuable foodstuffs—while MILLIONS IN THE LAND ARE WITHOUT BREAD AND MEAT.

We have seen taxes tripled, not for the constitutional purpose of raising revenue, but as a means of POLITICAL REPRISALS.

We have heard from the mouth of an Under-Secretary of Agriculture, Rexford Guy Tugwell, seditious attempts to fan the "indignation" of the farmers and workers of America by the Russian order to "SURGE FORWARD" against all the remainder of the American people.

We have seen an attempt, partly successful, of the Congress and the Executive to ruin ALL utility-holding companies AND THEIR INVESTORS because SOME of the companies violated certain provisions of the law.

We have seen the Federal payroll mount to $5,387,555,364, carrying over NINE MILLION PERSONS on its lists, many of whom are being politically regimented for THE DEBAUCHERY OF THE BALLOT NEXT NOVEMBER BY THE POLITICAL METHODS OF TAMMANY HALL.

NINETEEN-THIRTY-FIVE saw also the ascension to dominant power in the White House councils of an Austrian-born Marxist, one Felix Frankfurter, who has mentally no more conception of what the individualism of Jefferson, Madison, Lincoln and Cleveland means than Hitler has of the First Amendment to our Constitution.

In a word, 1935 will go into history as the year in which every principle of the greatest SUCCESSFUL experiment ever made in human freedom and justice was REPUDIATED and RIDICULED by the public officials solemnly sworn to support these principles and this free Government.

Today we face another year, a year that may decide for generations to come whether the United States of America is to remain the free country of the millions, now dead and gone, who built it with their BRAIN, their BRAWN, their ideals of FREEDOM, their healthy COMPETITIVE SPIRIT and their MILITANT INDIVIDUALISM, or whether it is to sink to the level of the regimented empires of a disintegrating and atavistic Europe.

This decision in 1936 is STILL in the hands of the American people.

This year, of which today registers the first prophetic foothold, has this momentous question on its lips:

AMERICANS!—WHICH WAY? IS IT TO BE THE CONSTITUTIONAL INDIVIDUALISM OF WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON, MADISON AND LINCOLN OR THE COLLECTIVIST LOCK-STEP SLAVERY OF LENIN, STALIN AND HITLER?

BRISTOL HIGH CAGE TEAM READY FOR OPENER

By Jack Orr

The 1936 edition of Bristol High's basketball team is practicing daily in preparation for their opener with Fallsington High on January 7th.

With a pair of regulars and a trio of other lettermen back prospects are not as gloomy as Bill Dougherty, pessimistic Bristol mentor predicts. The Cardinal and Gray are attempting a comeback this year as they had a pitiful campaign last season when they dropped ten of their sixteen games.

This year's card also calls for sixteen ball games and among the new schools on the schedule are: Banks Business College Fresh, School Ship Annapolis, Bryn Athyn Academy and Osteopathy College Fresh. Another feature on the schedule this year is the absence of Doylestown High.

The two starters returning are Charlie Hughes who occupied a forward spot last season and has been moved to the pivot post for this year's campaign, and Phil Carnvale, all-Bucks County end who will be one of the men up front.

"Punk" Zefferi will hold down the other forward position while "Buck" Profy, another All County man, with "Nick" Huffnell will be the guards.

In reserve the Cardinal and Gray will have Bill Mignoni and Jim DeWitt at the center post, Dom Sagolla, Joe Conti and Carm Gullato, all football starters for guards and "Walberg" VanLenten and "Jupes" Zefferi for the up front posts.

The opener next Tuesday night will be a Lower Bucks County Conference battle. The schools in the circuit include: Morrisville, defending champions, Southampton, runners-up last year, Fallsington, Bensalem, Yardley and Newtown.
